

Winners for 2010 named

On May 15, 2010, thirty seven finalists in the First Year Algebra Contest participated at Derry Area Middle School for top honors. First place went to Tony Wang; second place to Ananya Cleetus (departed before awards program); and third place to Brian Kaplan (departed before awards program), all of Fort Couch Middle School of the Upper St. Clair School District. Regional winners from the first round were also recognized: Tony Wang, Fort Couch Middle School, for Allegheny County; Mark Michalko, Hopewell Junior High, for Beaver, Butler, and Lawrence Counties; Colton Jobes, McGuffey Middle School, for Washington and Greene Counties; and Lizzy MacDougall, Valley School of Ligonier, for Westmoreland and Fayette Counties.

Barb MacDonald, President of MCWP, presents Tony Wang of Fort Couch Middle School his plaque for being the top scorer for Allegheny County in the first round of the Mathematics Council of Western Pennsylvania's First Year Algebra Contest.

Barb MacDonald presents Mark Michalko of Hopewell Junior High his plaque for being the top scorer for Beaver, Butler, and Lawrence Counties in the first round of the Mathematics Council of Western Pennsylvania's First Year Algebra Contest.

Barb MacDonald presents Colton Jobes of NcGuffey Middle School his plaque for being the top scorer for Washington and Greene Counties in the first round of the Mathematics Council of Western Pennsylvania's First Year Algebra Contest.

Barb MacDonald presents Lizzy MacDougall of the Valley School of Ligonier for being the top scorer for Westmoreland and Fayette Counties in the first round of the Mathematics Council of Western Pennsylvania's First Year Algebra Contest.

Barb MacDonald presents Tony Wang of Fort Couch Middle School his plaque and $100 for being the top scorer in the Mathematics Council of Western Pennsylvania's First Year Algebra Contest Final Round.